We will update this recommendation, should prices trigger our order level.

11 July, 2011

This is a breakout strategy. We are looking to take advantage of short sellers stops being popped at the highs, coupled with new momentum traders entering the market. Thus leading to a surge in price higher.

Broadly speaking, both trend and momentum are already favoured to the upside.

We will risk 0.50% of our trading capital on this trade.
